Your guide to the largest and most versatile range of timber in the Island

KILN DRIED

- There are several advantages to using Kiln Dried timber: it is stronger and holds nails better than green/unseasoned timber; it is more stable and also minimises future warping; it is less subject to stain, decay and insect attack and is easier to paint and treat with preservatives.

C16 / C24 GRADED TIMBER

- Uses for C16 / C24 Graded Timber include Floor Joists, Roofing and Studding stamped in compliance with the appropriate BS-EN specification.
- All timber should meet with the requirements of the local Planning & Building Services regarding its suitability for use in a load bearing situation.

TREATMENT USE CLASSES

Class 1	Internal, dry (eg. Upper floor joists)
Class 2	Internal, risk of wetting (eg. Tile battens)
Class 3	Outdoors, coated, above ground (eg. Soffits/Cladding/Fence rails)
Class 4	Direct soil or fresh water contact (eg. Fence posts)

CHAIN OF CUSTODY

- Normans is committed to sourcing all timber and timber products from legal sources.
- Chain of Custody is the proven, audited unbroken path that traces a product from source to end user via all stages of processing that confirms to the end user that the timber is sourced from a certified forest.
- There are several different certification schemes running.
